

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy, one year. $1.50
One copy, six months. 75
One copy, four months. 50
No deduction from these rates under any circumstances.
As we are compelled by law to pay postage in advance on papers sent outside of Ohio County, we are forced to require payment on subscriptions in advance.

All letters on business must be addressed to JOHN P. BARRETT, Publisher.

DIRECTORY.
COUNTY DIRECTORY.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Hon. Lucas P. Little, Judge, Owingsboro.
Hon. Joseph A. Hartford, Calhoun.
Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartford.
Clarence Hardwick, Clerk, Hartford.
J. P. Barrett, Master Commissioner, Hartford.
D. B. Moore, Sheriff, Hartford, Deputies.
Marion Yates, Marshal, Sam Keown,
Fordsville, Ky., and Kentucky, in May and
November, and continues four weeks each term.

COUNTY COURT.

C. W. Massie, Judge, Hartford.
T. J. Smith, Clerk, Hartford.
H. B. Morris, Sheriff, Hartford.
Court begins on the first Monday in every month.

QUARTERLY COURT.

Begins on the third Mondays in January, April, July and October.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

Begins on the first Mondays in January and October.

OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS.

E. P. Barnett, Surveyor, Hartford.
W. H. Moss, Assessor, Whiteside.
John Felix, School Commissioner, Hartford.

POLICE COURTS.

Hartford—Chapman Crow, Judge, fourth Mondays in March, June, Sept. and Dec.
John C. Deyo, Clerk.

Bethel—S. S. Stahl, Judge, courts first Sunday in January, April, July and October.
S. P. Taylor, Marshal.

Crownpoint—P. W. Gatzup, Judge, second Sunday in January, April, July and October.
W. T. Tipton, Marshal.

Cerro—Henry Finley, Judge, second Saturday in January, April, July and October.
Vance, Marshal.

Bethel—J. W. Lanford, Judge, Courts held third Saturday in January, April, July and October.
P. M. Brown, Marshal.

JUSTICES COURTS.

Fordsville—J. C. Jones, Judge, vacant.
Marshal, Court held first Saturdays in January, April, July and October.

Bethel—J. C. Jones, Judge, W. Taylor, Marshal, H. W. Lewis, Deputy. Courts held first Saturday in January, April, July and October.

CONSTABLES.

Fordsville—J. W. Payne, Post-office
Marshal, J. H. Sapp.

Hartford—John E. Bean, Post-office
Marshal, P. W. Tabor. Post-office, Sheriff.

Rosine—P. W. Tabor. Post-office, Sheriff.

Crownpoint—S. L. Leach. Post-office Crown-point.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Baptist—Services first Sunday and Sunday night in every month.

M. E. Church—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Methodist—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Calvary—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Episcopal—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Presbyterian—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Chamberlain—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

Methodist—Services third and fourth Sundays in each month.

JOHN GRIFFIN CARLISLE
SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Hon. John G. Carlisle, representing the 6th district of Kentucky in the present Congress, is now forty eight years of age, seven years of which he has served in Congress with increased distinction each term. Soon after entering upon his first term in 1875 it was conceded by the older members of the House that Mr. Carlisle was destined to become a central figure in national politics, and time has verified the wisdom of their prophecy by his elevation to the speakership of the body in which he has so brilliantly figured.

The contest from which Mr. Carlisle has so successfully emerged is a victory that brings him into formidable prominence as an excellent probability for the Presidential ticket of 1884. Within an hour after his selection by the caucus for the speakership there were not a few emphatic in their opinions that the present honor was only a step to the Presidency of the Senate in 1885.

In other words, it is claimed that Carlisle will be the Democratic nominee for Vice President next year in combination with some northern man for the Presidency, thus uniting the two great sections of the party, North and South. The northern gentleman to complete the ticket is not named.

MR. CARLISLE'S VIEWS ON THE TARIFF.

Your correspondent sought an interview with the new Speaker and found him willing to frankly express himself on subjects for future legislation.

"Mr. Carlisle, do you consider your selection for Speakership an endorsement by the Democratic party of your reform views on the tariff?"

"Most emphatically, yes. I was the only candidate for the honor representing my party's policy on the tariff. Messrs. Randall and Cox each holding views inconsistent with our position on the purposes of a tariff."

"Do you mean tariff for revenue only?"

"That is the constituent principle, to be regulated, however, so as to protect our home industries without fostering monopolies. For instance, we should have a high tariff on manufactured products coming in competition with home industries, with a low tariff on raw materials not attainable in our own country."

"Do you anticipate any attempt in the present Congress to revise the existing laws on the subject?"

"There will probably be no effort of the kind until a change in the political complexion of the Senate occurs. I believe, however, that the question will be approached sooner or later intelligently and for the best interests of the country at large."

A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Mr. Carlisle was born September 5th, 1835, in Kenton county, Kentucky. His early days were spent in securing an education such as the country schools of those days afforded, at the same time supporting himself by his own labor. An opportunity was presented and young Carlisle began the study of law in Covington. At the end of two years he was admitted to the bar in 1858, and so rapid was his rise in the profession and so great his popularity with the public that he was elected a member of the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature in 1864, a State Senator in 1866, and again in 1869, Lieutenant-Governor in 1871, serving until September, 1875.

Mr. Carlisle was then relieved of the Lieutenant-Governorship by his election to the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses. He was returned to the Forty-seventh Congress, in which he became a conspicuous figure, and now he is Speaker of the Forty-eighth.

Personally Mr. Carlisle is quite dignified, yet very courteous in manner, and impresses one with the opinion that he is a character of more than ordinary ability, by nature and tact a brilliant leader and conscientious politician. The country at large will anticipate his career as Speaker with considerable interest.

The President's Message.

Pursuant to the mandate of the Federal constitution, President Arthur, on the 4th inst., submitted to the Congress, just assembled, his message on the condition of the country and the affairs of the government at home and abroad.

While the Message is not a profound state paper, and is not calculated to impress the reader with the belief that our accidental President is a great statesman yet, it compels us to admit that it is, on the whole, well written, and abounding in useful information to the country and contains several recommendations for additional legislation which Congress would do well to adopt, as for instance, the enactment of stringent legislation against the survivor of the "twin reefs" Mormonism, the necessity of protecting the public forests, the duty of providing by appropriate legislation for the presidential succession, and the importance of providing at once adequate defenses for our extensive coast, so as to insure protection to our seaboard cities and maritime interests against ravage in the event of a foreign war. His treatment of the finances is interesting and methodical, but sneaks somewhat of Gotham, and hits at legislation which would wonderfully please Wall Street, but which if enacted we opine would irritate labor, which it is beginning to be understood is, like sensitive.

The message concludes with a wall at the recent decision of the supreme court invalidating the civil rights bill, and the executive pledges his unquestioning approval of any legislation where Congress may lawfully supplement the guarantees of the constitution for the equal enjoyment by all the citizens of the United States of any right privilege and immunity of citizenship.

The trial of Chas. Wing, for the killing of Cruger at Princeton, resulted in a hung jury. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000.

The election of Carlisle settles at least the question of the tariff from a Democratic stand-point; that is, it settles the doctrine contended for by the party, which is a tariff for reform as distinguished from a tariff for protection. We take it, that the next Democratic convention will proclaim in plain, unmistakable language the principles of party and consistency with itself, and should it, a tariff for revenue will be proclaimed as heretofore in its conventions. We do not say that every Democrat in the United States agrees to or gives this principle his support, but a large majority, overwhelmingly large. It is also true that a large portion of the Republican party favors a tariff so laid or adjusted. That party in convention formed will not proclaim a tariff for revenue. Politicians usually attend and control conventions, and hence, as they have, heretofore, been averse to the breeze inscribed thereon protection as their rallying cry in the Presidential contest which will take place in 1884.

*Sweet sounding is the word "protection!" It implies something to protect, some interest to care for, and impliedly that some one or more needs protection. Let us, reader, examine these propositions and see what they mean. While the word protection is rather attractive in this instance we in all candor think it very deceptive and oppressive in its deception. Now, who wants and demands the protection? Monopoly, wealth, corporations and giants are the ones. Do they need it? Wealth can care for itself, monopolies always have, corporations almost universally do, and we know giants have the power, if they choose to exercise it. If these things are true, what protection do they need? Justice, equity and truth say none. If this is true, then it is a false sympathy which goes out to them in legislation from the Republican party, and it is this sympathy and legislation Democrats oppose. The sympathy is the war tariff which the Democrats are seeking to revise. They favor one for the purpose of raising revenue. This is the primary object, and that only. The mode of raising revenue for the support of the government by a tariff has, by custom been so interwoven with the institutions of the country, that there is no considerable number of our people or any organized party seeking to do otherwise now, although they might think as an original proposition that it were raised otherwise it would be more equitable, fall upon the wealth of the country and cause the government to be run by all parties in power more economically, because the people would directly and know what their Government was costing, therefore our politicians and legislators would be careful and watchful. As the old war horse smelleth the battle afar off so our law-makers, wanting to keep their places and a party desiring to obtain and maintain ascendancy, would spend and allow stored by fat jots and otherwise as little of the people's money as possible consistent with the interests of the country, as a general thing. But, as we have heretofore stated, that doctrine is not now contended for by any party or by many of those who believe it the better way to raise revenue. Now what we mean by revenue and what the Democratic party means in this connection, revenue sufficient to pay the expenses of the government economically administered, including interest on our debt.

This is all the revenue we want—this is all the tax that should be imposed. And the tax should be imposed with this object in view. A tax for revenue and that alone "only" if you please. And we believe with the experience of hundred years and with the facts staring us right in the face, that the wealth of the country seemingly continued in the hands of manufacturers, corporations and their allies, that situated as they are, in a country bounded almost in extent, finest waterpowers in the world, most abundant supply (inexhaustible it would seem) of timber, coal and mineral wealth and abounding in and having the capacity to produce the raw material necessary to a marvelous extent, they should be contented with such protection as a tariff for revenue will afford. Content or not they will have to submit.

Uncle George and Aunt Sallie Rowe are assisting their son Dee, who has just taken charge of the Hartford House. They will remain two or three weeks.

Uncle Johnny Smith visited his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Coffman, at Island last week.

Mr. Godfrey McHenry spent two or three days in this vicinity bird hunting. He and Alvin Rowe killed a goodly number of them. Birds were never more plentiful than they are in this section of the country.

Miss Mattie Robertson, daughter of alone seems willing to so shape her's laws as to accomplish these desirable results, we appeal to all to support it, believing that all should, we appeal to the people—the American people, to throw off the shackles binding you to party, that causes you to be blind to your own interest, and to vote directly against not only right, but against your own interests. Have we not a right to appeal and expect that it will be granted? Mr. Randall, we take it, has more experience—as much or more ability and as good a man, but we could not favor his election as Speaker in this contest, even if residences had been changed.

This election, then, is but an earnest, another evidence of the Democratic party's position on the tax. Relief relief is what the people want—demands we must have, and what the Democratic party propose to give.

Beda Budget.

Dec. 10th, 1883.

Editor Herald:

I have been silent for a long time. I will write you a few items from our little village.

Corn has about all been gathered and the yield was better than was expected. Tobacco is being sold at satisfactory prices.

A protracted meeting is in progress at No Creek, conducted by the pastor, Mr. Barnes.

We have a fine debating society here, which we hope, will be well conducted and attended, and prove beneficial to all concerned.

Miss B. A. Worthington, of McLean county, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. Minor Hocker left for Texas, last Monday.

Mr. G. W. Bennett is having a cook-room built, which, when completed, will be quite commodious.

A. L. Westerfield has purchased a fine span of mules; the price paid was $255.

B. M. Bennett, our blacksmith, has recovered his shop, which makes quite a little in its look.

Messrs. R. P. and A. L. Bennett, spent two weeks in Indiana, where they have relatives.

Bro. Smith did not fill his appointment here yesterday, but will preach here next Friday.

Miss Belle Carson, of Owensboro, is visiting here. More anon, T. B.

Centertown Gleamings.

Editor Herald:

We are having delightful weather for December. Indeed we are likely to run short of hog-killing weather, it is so warm.

Business is on the dull order this last week or two. The fall trade is about over and merchants will have to be patient a little while till another busy season sets in.

Mr. Ford's new palatial residence is beginning to take shape under the management of Mr. Abe Bosket, and he long will have to be one of the most substantial as well as one of the most imposing edifices in this part of the country.

The Rowe store is slowly but surely progressing. It will be ready for occupancy in a week or ten days.

Rone & Brother's shop is in full blast, in fact they have one of the best equipped shops of the kind in the Green River country. In addition to everything kept in a first class saddle and harness shop they manufacture and keep on hand the celebrated Rone collars, and I doubt whether there is a workman in that line anywhere that can exceed them in workmanship, and taking all things into consideration, the Rone Bros. deserve and should have a liberal patronage.

John M. Bishop has finished and elegantly furnished his new house. He now has the nicest residence in his part of the county, and no one more than John Bishop deserves a nice new house; he is a first class fellow.

Wade Ross is preparing a good dwelling on the land purchased of Bell, on the road between this and Hartford. Success to Wade, for he always was a good fellow.

J. Burks Wade has been for the last several days engaged in breaking ground for corn next year, which is a capital good plan. He will very likely strew that ground next spring, and who but knows that will put that ground in the best order.

Dr. P. J. Coffman has cut between three and four hundred logs on the land he bought of Jacob C. Warden. He has delivered the most of them to Mr. Ford at Livermore, to whom he had sold them. He is now preparing to move over the creek in his wife's father's neighborhood, having sold his farm to J. E. Coleman.

Frank Tichener has been making some improvements on his residence. Frank is not stand-still and do-nothing sort of a fellow.

Sometimes killed their pork a week ago, the weather turned suddenly so warm, they have been more or less easy, even for fear their meat would spoil.

Little Arthur, the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Oglesby, who live near "Squire" Byers, died of diphtheric croup. He was a very sprightly child. The parents have the sympathy of every one.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hefflin, a son, on the 27th ult.

J. S. Leisure, of this place, has typhomalarial fever. He is steadily improving.

Mrs. John P. Rowe is sick with a fever of a malarial character.

Uncle George and Aunt Sallie Rowe are assisting their son Dee, who has just taken charge of the Hartford House. They will remain two or three weeks.

Uncle Johnny Smith visited his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Coffman, at Island last week.

Mr. Godfrey McHenry spent two or three days in this vicinity bird hunting. He and Alvin Rowe killed a goodly number of them. Birds were never more plentiful than they are in this section of the county.

Miss Mattie Robertson, daughter of Rural's letter in last week's Herald was a good one, as all his productions are, but he outdid himself in his last. His ridicule would have done honor to a Republican stump speaker. He has "Morrow" in his bones. I always knew he was right at heart. Come out on the Lord's side and shake hands with Bro. Barrett, and denounce wickedness in high places wherever found.

Yours, G. RANGER.

New York City Letter.

November 28th, 1883.

Editor Herald:

Thinking that perhaps a few lines from this the metropolis of the new world would find space in your paper, I take this opportunity of writing.

I left Kentucky on the 18th of November, and arrived here, after a long but pleasant trip, on the 22d. Taking the Pan Handle route from Louisville I passed through Kentucky and the greater part of Ohio during the night, much to my dissatisfaction, for I was anxious to see Ohio, the State that had so gallantly cast off the shackles of Republicanism in the last State election and numbered itself as a Democratic State in time to come.

On nearing Pittsburgh, I was almost tempted to kneel and offer up, what I conceived to be, my last prayer, for I was sure that I was running into the mouth of a volcano, or square into the presence of His Majesty who rules below, but looking around me, and seeing that my fellow-passengers were an expression of peace and quietude, I kept my seat, and in a few minutes rushed into the city, where I beheld one vast cloud of smoke and dust ascending to Heaven, which verified to my mind that the report I had heretofore heard of Pittsburgh being the dirtiest, smokiest place on the continent was true.

After leaving Pittsburgh the country is rugged, but is rich in mineral resources—every few miles could be seen iron furnaces belching forth flames of fire, plainly showing that the people of Pennsylvania are a live, wide awake people, and fully mean to maintain the reputation of their State as being one of the leading States in the Union.

In a short time, small specks became visible on the distant horizon, and gradually growing larger and larger, until at last we entered the Juniata valley, bounded on either side by the Allegheny mountains; from here until I reached Harrisburg, my eyes feasted upon the beauties of the nature, and it is useless for me with my feeble pen to attempt to describe the interesting sights that met my gaze.

At one time we were in the midst of peaks covered with beautiful foliage lifting their majestic heads to Heaven at another traversing table lands, on the top of one of which is the celebrated Horse Shoe Bend, the shortest railroad bend in the world, on making this bend and looking hundreds and hundreds of feet below, an indescribable feeling of wonder and awe took possession of me, but after getting safely around and glancing backward I could truly exclaim, as others have done, that it was a grand and glorious sight. Such scenes as this were ever before my view until might cast her mantle over all, and left me to reflect over the mysteries and beauties of nature and the wisdom and power of nature's God.

To fully understand and appreciate the ability and ingenuity of man, one should visit New York for the first time, and there behold the unlimited and astonishing achievements made by him.

This city is situated upon an island, nearly every part of which is covered with magnificently houses, and from sun up until late at night it is one continuous city of bustle and confusion; with its limits are people from every portion of the globe, all apparently, striving to accumulate hoards of wealth, for all with whom I have had dealings grab at a cent piece with as much eagerness as a drowning man at a wisp of straw, but still it is the Metropolis of America, the home of Vanderbilt, Gould and other Wall street Kings, and the people of the South and West must complain if their pockets are plucked to keep up such men and such a Government as it is under its present administration.

Since I have been here I have visited several places of importance, among them Stewart's, the New York and Brooklyn Bridge, one of the finest pieces of work in the world, Central Park, containing 750 acres of land, within which are the statues of a great many noted men, such as Shakespeare, Burns, Greeley, Sullivans, Casy and Carlyle in one, $1.50; Kemble's Ancient Egypt, $1; Roebling's Suspension Bridge, $2.75; Franklin's Discovery of America, $1.25; Catalogue 500,000 volumes free. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 13 Adams St., TOLEDO, O.

Address, 13 Adams St., TOLEDO, O. 9:30 AM.

History $1.50 Book for $1.50

Ranch's Hand Book, $2.50

Armstrong's History, $2.50

Ward's History, $2.50

THE HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 12, 1883.

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.:

WILL COOPER, Cromwell.
EDGAR RILEY, Livermore.
DAN ROGERS, Buford.
JNO. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordsville.
S. P. BENNETT, Ceralvo.
DR. G. R. SANDERS, Centertown.
WILLIE MAY, Haynesville.
J. B. HOCKER, Sutton.
T. C. FLOYD, Whitesville.
V. B. RAINS, Rosine.
HON. R. P. HOCKER, Beaver Dam.
W. A. GIBSON, Caneville.
MRS. NANNIE W. JONES, Horton.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. W. C. Hayes is on a visit to her parents at Hodgenville, Ky.

Mr. Andrew Bushill, of Paradise, is visiting relatives in town this week.

Dr. J. H. Taylor and wife, of Owensboro, visited Mrs. Moseley last week.

Judge Little returned yesterday evening and reports his child much improved.

Mr. Joe Claggett, of Grayson county, paid the HERALD office a visit last Thursday.

Judge Thos. C. Carson and Wm. Waud, of Morgantown, were in town this week.

Prof. Rhoads made a flying visit to South Carrollton, Central City, Riedale and Greenville, last Friday, returning Saturday evening.

Mr. R. Paxton, recent proprietor of the Hartford House, has vacated the same and has moved to the brick cottage belonging to Mrs. Eldson.

Mr. W. H. Williams, of the Red Front has our thanks for a basket of fine apples. We appreciated and enjoyed the delightful treat very much indeed.

Thos. W. Bennett, the HERALD's correspondent at Beda called on us yesterday. He is one of Ohio county's newest young men, an excellent penman, a good scholar and has promised to write regularly for the HERALD hereafter.

Mr. W. May, the handsome merchant, and successful correspondent of the HERALD at Haynesville, was in town yesterday and called on us. We knew his father when we were but a boy, but did not know the young man. We were impressed with his manly intelligent appearance.

Mr. Henry Aull assistant druggist at Mr. J. W. Ford's, has been dangerously ill for days past. He is a noble good boy and greatly beloved by all. We are sincerely hoping that with the delicate attentions of Mr. Ford's family, his mother and father and physician, Dr. Pendleton, that he will speedily recover.

Our old friend, Elisha Miles, of Fordsville, was in town last week and renewed his faith to the HERALD. He says he appreciates the HERALD more than any paper he can get because it is full of news about people and places he is interested in, while the city papers are full of foreign affairs that he cares but little for.

W. C. Gaynor of Hancock county, Ky., has been engaged by Prof. Mourning, to take charge of the Commercial Department of Hartford College. He is a young man of scholarly attainment, an experienced teacher and is a specialist in his profession. The paper is to be congratulated in securing the services of Mr. Gaynor while those who desire to study Commerce can be well assured that the work done will be thorough.

—Cloaks at half prices. H. SMALL.

—Men and boys gossamers, at H. B. Taylor & Co.

—Children's suits cheap, at H. B. Taylor & Co.

—Nice lot of dolls of all sorts and sizes at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's —Big stock of skates, at Williams Bros.

—Jeans pants cheapest in town, at H. B. Taylor & Co.

—Boots and shoes, whole stock, from 75 cents up. H. SMALL.

—Dr. Coleman is meeting with wonderful success at Whitesville. Old and young find grace through his matchless eloquence. Up to the close of the eleventh day there had been 113 editions.

—You might search the world for bright blossoms and rare exotics, and no where can you compare to our little buds and blossoms of humanity that are being cultivated and adorn the College Hall each day.

—The old adage is we believe that "the broom is woman's weapon of warfare." The College girls are practicing a broom drill to give a public exhibit of their skill in this accomplishment. We say that's right girls, practice with the broom—we mean to sweep.

—The other day it was raining and we chanced to look up College Avenue, and it was a live mass of humanity from the grown school girl down to the wee midgets in their gossamers. It was a comical sight—with nothing human perceptible save two bright eyes peeping from under the hood. If it had been in the night and they had had torch lights to give a weird look, we should have thought we had got into that country where—well we won't say where.

—Thomas & Kimbley will have a large assortment of Christmas goods. Will tell you about them in next week's Herald.

—Mr. W. E. Roberts and family, of Evansville, Ind., have taken rooms at Mrs. Hudson's. Mr. Roberts is an artist of eleven years' experience and comes among us well recommended. He has secured rooms from W. H. Williams & Son, over the Red Front, and is fixing up a picture gallery that will be the handsomest thing of the kind ever opened in Hartford. He will be ready for business about Christmas and can take any and all kinds of pictures, but will make a specialty of photographs. Get ready to have your likeness taken.

—Clothing very low. H. SMALL.
—A full line of Christmas Tricks will be received at the Red Front.

—S. W. Anderson starts to Cincinnati, Ohio, to day to purchase a hand-some lot of Christmas goods.

—Nice fresh oysters served in any style at any hour, or for sale by bulk or can, by A. T. Nall.

—The protracted meeting at Salem Church conducted by Revs. W. C. Hays and C. R. Crowe closed last Sunday with seventeen conversions and sixteen additions to the church.

—S. W. Anderson has lost 3 volumes of his American Encyclopedia. Look in your library and see if you have them and if so return them.

—An onion received by Thomas Bros. from their sister, Mrs. Fannie Johnson, Terre Haute, Ind., which was grown in South America, weighs 12 pounds and Call to see it.

—Go to the Red Front for your Xmas trinkets.

—The building committee of the Hartford Baptist church request all subscribers to pay up promptly. The work on the church is progressing finely, and the committee need money. Please remit to S. W. Anderson, Treasurer.

—Call and see those Premiums given away on January 1st, 1884. H. SMALL'S

—Every person ought to try to get those Premiums, a Cloak, Overcoat, Suit of Cloth, Shirt, Hat, Shoes, Cashmere Dress, Lady's Hat, and 800 es. Goods are sold at very low figures. H. SMALL

—Nearest fresh Oysters from Baltimore in bulk and can will be received at the Red Front to day, and will be served up in style to suit or sold in bulk or can.

—Call and see those ladies' and children's cloaks, at H. B. Taylor & Co.

—We called on George Klein & Bro. yesterday for an advertisement, but they were so busy waiting on customers that they could not furnish an answer. They had a tremendous trade Monday and Tuesday.

—Frank L. Felix, School Commissioner, wishes to let the teachers of the county know that he has finished visiting the schools on the south side of Rough river, and commenced his visits on the north side last Monday and will be around in time to furnish blanks for the 40 per cent. on special reports.

—Fine imported Cashmere at low prices. H. SMALL

—A fine protracted meeting has been in progress at Equality church for two weeks, and is still going on. Rev. J. S. Scober conducted it for a time, but left recently when Rev. Mr. Brandon took charge. There had been 10 conversions up to Sunday last, and several more anxiously inquiring the way.

—Call and see those Premiums. H. SMALL

—"Halloo! Can you tell me how in the world old Uncle Henry Small can sell his goods so cheap?" "Yes, sir, it is very easy to understand. He has a man in New York City who gets the goods without money, or rather, he gets them for nothing. A cousin of his, who is a freight agent, brings them without any cost, so all the goods sold must be very low, as those two young fellows there don't believe in big profits, and that is the reason his house is always full of customers. Now, friend, if you go to Hartford, give him a trial, and I am sure you will save 50 per cent on your money, besides getting a chance at those premiums." Don't forget Henry Small is the man that sells all the cheap goods, and besides, only keeps the best quality of goods.

—Jeans, cotton, calico, indigo blue, a new stock and sell them cheap at cash. H. SMALL

—Dr. Coleman is meeting with wonderful success at Whitesville. Old and young find grace through his matchless eloquence. Up to the close of the eleventh day there had been 113 editions.

—You might search the world for bright blossoms and rare exotics, and no where can you compare to our little buds and blossoms of humanity that are being cultivated and adorn the College Hall each day.

—The old adage is we believe that "the broom is woman's weapon of warfare." The College girls are practicing a broom drill to give a public exhibit of their skill in this accomplishment. We say that's right girls, practice with the broom—we mean to sweep.

—The other day it was raining and we chanced to look up College Avenue, and it was a live mass of humanity from the grown school girl down to the wee midgets in their gossamers. It was a comical sight—with nothing human perceptible save two bright eyes peeping from under the hood. If it had been in the night and they had had torch lights to give a weird look, we should have thought we had got into that country where—well we won't say where.

—Thomas & Kimbley will have a large assortment of Christmas goods. Will tell you about them in next week's Herald.

—Mr. W. E. Roberts and family, of Evansville, Ind., have taken rooms at Mrs. Hudson's. Mr. Roberts is an artist of eleven years' experience and comes among us well recommended. He has secured rooms from W. H. Williams & Son, over the Red Front, and is fixing up a picture gallery that will be the handsomest thing of the kind ever opened in Hartford. He will be ready for business about Christmas and can take any and all kinds of pictures, but will make a specialty of photographs. Get ready to have your likeness taken.

—Clothing very low. H. SMALL.
—A full line of Christmas Tricks will be received at the Red Front.

—S. W. Anderson starts to Cincinnati, Ohio, to day to purchase a hand-some lot of Christmas goods.

—Nice fresh oysters served in any style at any hour, or for sale by bulk or can, by A. T. Nall.

—The protracted meeting at Salem Church conducted by Revs. W. C. Hays and C. R. Crowe closed last Sunday with seventeen conversions and sixteen additions to the church.

—S. W. Anderson has lost 3 volumes of his American Encyclopedia. Look in your library and see if you have them and if so return them.

—An onion received by Thomas Bros. from their sister, Mrs. Fannie Johnson, Terre Haute, Ind., which was grown in South America, weighs 12 pounds and Call to see it.

—Go to the Red Front for your Xmas trinkets.

—The building committee of the Hartford Baptist church request all subscribers to pay up promptly. The work on the church is progressing finely, and the committee need money. Please remit to S. W. Anderson, Treasurer.

—Call and see those Premiums given away on January 1st, 1884. H. SMALL'S

—Every person ought to try to get those Premiums, a Cloak, Overcoat, Suit of Cloth, Shirt, Hat, Shoes, Cashmere Dress, Lady's Hat, and 800 es. Goods are sold at very low figures. H. SMALL

—Nearest fresh Oysters from Baltimore in bulk and can will be received at the Red Front to day, and will be served up in style to suit or sold in bulk or can.

—Call and see those ladies' and children's cloaks, at H. B. Taylor & Co.

—We called on George Klein & Bro. yesterday for an advertisement, but they were so busy waiting on customers that they could not furnish an answer. They had a tremendous trade Monday and Tuesday.

—Frank L. Felix, School Commissioner, wishes to let the teachers of the county know that he has finished visiting the schools on the south side of Rough river, and commenced his visits on the north side last Monday and will be around in time to furnish blanks for the 40 per cent. on special reports.

—Fine imported Cashmere at low prices. H. SMALL

—A fine protracted meeting has been in progress at Equality church for two weeks, and is still going on. Rev. J. S. Scober conducted it for a time, but left recently when Rev. Mr. Brandon took charge. There had been 10 conversions up to Sunday last, and several more anxiously inquiring the way.

—Call and see those Premiums. H. SMALL

—"Halloo! Can you tell me how in the world old Uncle Henry Small can sell his goods so cheap?" "Yes, sir, it is very easy to understand. He has a man in New York City who gets the goods without money, or rather, he gets them for nothing. A cousin of his, who is a freight agent, brings them without any cost, so all the goods sold must be very low, as those two young fellows there don't believe in big profits, and that is the reason his house is always full of customers. Now, friend, if you go to Hartford, give him a trial, and I am sure you will save 50 per cent on your money, besides getting a chance at those premiums." Don't forget Henry Small is the man that sells all the cheap goods, and besides, only keeps the best quality of goods.

—Resolved, 1st, that it is with sincere sorrow that we part with this much esteemed and popular member of our faculty.

Resolved, 2nd, That we have found in her a faithful, efficient teacher, a cheerful, genial and sympathetic friend, ever alive to the interests of the school and ready to contribute to the comfort, convenience and happiness of her fellow-teachers and her pupils.

Resolved, 3rd, That we extend to her our deepest sympathy in her illness, with the assurance that our most earnest prayers for her comfort and speedy restoration to health, will follow her to the grave.

Resolved, 4th, That we commend to her the promises of our Heavenly Father, especially such as are found in Romans, viii, 28th, and Hebrews, xii, 6 to 11, inclusive, as the ground of her solace and comfort, in all her sickness.

Resolved, 5th, That we send her a copy of these resolutions and request their publication in the Hartford Herald.

T. M. MOURNING, Pres.,
MCHENRY RHOADS,
Mrs. ANNA B. MOURNING,
MISS KATE HENDRICK,
Miss E. BELLE TAYLOR.

—T. S. Jett, living near Panther's Creek, Haynesville, Ohio county, Ky., on the 17th inst., one red roe deer, one year old last spring, with upper half crop on right ear. Said deer was appraised at $15.

Witness my hand this 19th day of November, 1883.

J. N. MOORMAN,
484.
J. P. O. C.

Important to Young Men.

The next session of the renowned Commercial College of Kentucky University, Lexington, Ky., begins Jan. 8, 1884. Total cost to complete Full Diploma Business Course, including, tuition and board, $35. Time required, 10 weeks. Literary course free. Telegraphy taught. 5,000 successful graduates. You can begin at any time. No vacation. For circular, address,

WILBUR R. SMITH, Lexington, Ky.

List of Letters

Remaining in the post-office at Hartford, Ky., which if not called for will be sent to the dead-letter office January 1st, 1884:

Ashcroft, Miss M. E. Miller, James Ashepy, Mary E. Newell, Miss M. J. Beers, W. E. Peters, Dr. Preston Black, D. C. Pate, Mr. N. Ross, R. L. Hoover, L. G. Stewart, H. H. Hoover, G. S. Smith, Alexander Johnson, James Shown, Mrs. Mag Wallace, Miss Isa Tweedie, W. H. R. P. Rowe, P. M.

Good Overcoats from $3. up. H. SMALL

—Clothing very low. H. SMALL.

—A full line of Christmas Tricks will be received at the Red Front.

—S. W. Anderson starts to Cincinnati, Ohio, to day to purchase a hand-some lot of Christmas goods.

—Nice fresh oysters served in any style at any hour, or for sale by bulk or can, by A. T. Nall.

—The protracted meeting at Salem Church conducted by Revs. W. C. Hays and C. R. Crowe closed last Sunday with seventeen conversions and sixteen additions to the church.

—Mr. E. H. Rowe, the new landlord at the Hartford House, has been fully installed into office and proposes to run a modern hotel.

—E. T. Smith, of Beaver Dam, neighborhood, killed a hog last week that weighed 400 pounds net and had no natural bladders.

—Rev. C. R. Crowe and C. R. Crowe

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

THE BEST TONIC.

Cures Completely Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nervous, Malaria, Liver and Kidney Complaints, and Skin Diseases.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore.

Crossed lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

—An awful Responsibility.

Editor Herald:

Our neighborhood was shocked by a sudden and horrible death. Nathaniel Franklin Vance, who had recently come to this neighborhood with Bro. Barnes, the pastor of the M. E. church, was working with J. C. Barnett, and on last Saturday morning, December 1st, was preparing to haul a

SANDWICHES.

Discreet wives have sometimes neither eye nor ears.
Pink's Toothache Drops cure in one minute. 50 ct.

Gratitude preserves old friendship and procures new.

Hill's Hair and Whiskers Dye, 50 cents. 50 ct.

He that falls to-day may be up again tomorrow.

The flesh speedily reunites when obstinate sores are cleansed with Glen's Sulphur Soap. 50 ct.

Never let tea boil.

Kill worms in children with Wilder's Mother's Worm Syrup.

They laugh that win.

Don't shake with chills or burn with fever. Wilder's Chill Tonic is the sure cure.

A true friend should be esteemed as our noblest treasure.

Does death end all? Well, no; but Wilder's Stomach Bitters ends all Indigestion Consumption and Biliousness.

A good cause makes a stout heart and a strong arm.

Send your address and 3 cent stamp to A. V. Paine, Louisville, Ky., for set of beautiful picture cards.

A handful of hay in a handful of water neutralizes the smell of paint.

All kinds of Blood and Skin Diseases cured with Wilder's Sarsaparilla and Potash.

Industry and wisdom are the best qualities to win success.

No matter how jaded the constitution may be from disease or excess, the Great German Invigorator restores it permanently. See advertisement. For sale by Thomas & Kimbley. 46 3m

Woman and her servant, acting in accord, would outwit a dozen devils.

A young man is made better by a sister's love and Fever and Ague are cured by Wilder's Chill Tonic—also materia and periodical disorders.

Woman is more constant in hatred than in love.

A teaspoonful of charcoal in half a glass of warm water often relieves a sick headache. It absorbs the gases and relieves the distended stomach, pressing against the nerves that extend from the stomach to the head.

"Fine birds make fine feathers," and Wilder's Sarsaparilla and Potash make the blood pure and healthy.

Lemon rubbed on the face and hands helps to remove freckles and whiten the skin.

All diseases resulting from self-abuse as nervous debility, mental anxiety, depression of spirits, and functional derangements of the nervous system, cured by German Invigorator. See advertisement. For sale by Thomas & Kimbley. 46 3m

Go not with every alitent to the doctor nor with every plaint to the lawyer.

Wherever consumption prevails there Wilder's Wild Cherry is needed. It never fails to cure.

He teaches me to be good that does me good.

West—but don't go without a bottle of Wilder's Chill Tonic—a guaranteed cure for chills and fever.

Every mind was made for growth, knowledge; and its nature is stuned against when it is doomed to ignorance.

Torn to pieces with a cough? Wilder's Wild Cherry Tonic will mend you up as good as new.

No matter how handsome a young woman may be, when the right man comes along she is ready to yield the palm of beauty, if he has the sense to ask for it. —Boston Transcript.

Dr. W. B. White, Cloverport, Ky., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is universally praised by all who use them."

A solemn old scientist printed the fact that by bathing the feet in tepid water a man could double his circulation, and now all the editors are having tanks fitted to their office stoves.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25 cents. 50 ct.

Half of the misery of human life would be alleviated if we would try to exercise compassion, benevolence and humanity.

Opinion of Dr. Wm. H. Stokes, Physician, Mt. Hope Retreat, Baltimore: "I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to the virtues of Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic as the very best preparation used for depression, weakness, and indigestion, and I therefore confidently recommend it to the medical profession." (Remember the name, Colden's—take no other. Of druggists generally. 50 ct)

Nothing does so establish the mind amid the ruffles and turbulence of present things as both a look above them and a look beyond them—above them to the steady and good hand by which they are ruled, and beyond them to the sweet and beautiful eye to which, by that hand, they will be brought.

From Col. C. H. Mackey, 23d Iowa Infantry: I have derived more benefit from Ely's Cream Balm than anything else I have ever tried. I have now been using it for three months and am experiencing no trouble from Cataract whatever. I have been a sufferer for twenty years. C. H. MACKAY, Sigourney, Iowa, Feb. 22, 1882. 50 ct.

We cannot skip the seasons of our education. We cannot hasten the ripeness and the sweetness of a single day, nor dispense with one night's nipping frost, nor one week's brightening east wind.

For three winters I have been afflicted with cataract and cold in the head. I used Ely's Cream Balm; it accomplished all that was represented. T. F. McCormick (Judge Common Pleas), Elizabeth, N. J. (Price 50 cents.) 50 ct.

Abolish the feather duster. Use a cloth—wipe away the dust. Do you know just what you are doing when you brush away dust? You disseminate in the air and consequently introduce into your own interior, into your tissues and respiratory organs, all sorts of eggs, spores, epidemic germs and numerous vibrios which dust contains.

All between the cradle and the coffin is uncertain.

Anger begins with folly and ends with repentance.

Women ask if a man is discreet, as men ask if a woman is pretty.

In every human being there are many grains of gold. When one is down even by indiscretion of his own, do not stop to throw additional mud upon him. Strive rather to reach him with a helping hand, to extricate him from the mire in which he is wallowing.

This is truly manhood.

By the promptness and efficiency of several of the county boards the disease was effectively controlled in many localities last year. In other counties no such precautions were taken at the outset, and the disease was only checked after serious loss of life, great intermission with business, from the panic incident to an epidemic of this disease, and an expenditure of money, which if judiciously used in systematic vaccination, beforehand, would have given perfect immunity to every citizen in the community. Here, as in many other communities, an ounce of prevention is not only better but cheaper than a pound of cure.

In this, and all other matters pertaining to the public health, the State Board holds itself in readiness to assist the local boards to the full extent of its power; and all physicians of the State are requested to promptly notify this office, as well as their local boards, of the first outbreak of this or any other contagious disease in their respective communities.

By order of the Board, BOWLING GREEN, Ky., November, 1883

Thomas J. Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has again disgraced himself and brought reproach upon the party that elected him by getting beastly drunk and making a spectacle of himself. He has been drunk for weeks, and after having visited Louisville, and repeated his former exploits there, has finally gone to the mountains to cool off. It is said he has made an agreement with Gaines and Poore to run the office for its fees and perquisites, to pay him $150 a month. Henry ought to be impeached. His conduct is inexcusable. —Madisonville Times.

PUT HIM IN AN ASYLUM.

Thomas J. Henry, the Clerk of the Court of Appeals, is an habitual drunkard, and his inability to abstain from liquor and the scandal which results from his drunkenness have made it necessary for him to leave every thing to his deputies and keep himself away from the office. So says the Yeoman. His friends should take charge of him and put him in an inferior asylum, or in a lunatic asylum, for an habitual drunkard is to all intents and purposes a lunatic, and is just as fit a subject for restraint and treatment as any other human being who has lost the power of self-control. If the case of Clerk Henry should induce the Legislature to open our asylums for the recovery of inebriates, or to establish an inebriate asylum, then he will have served a patriotic purpose far more than if he had performed all the clerical duties of his office. Provision should be made by the State for just such cases as this, and it would save hundreds of men and their families from penury and all manner of sufferings. —Lexington Gazette.

TOM HENRY MUST GO.

Tom Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals by the grace of a large number of over-zealous and misguided Democrats of Kentucky, has been on a course of conduct which results in disgrace. It seems, from the report of the Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal, that he has been on a six weeks' continuous vacation, a part of which time he spent in Louisville, where he "howled" to his heart's content. It is said that he has vacated his office, leaving his affairs in the hands of his deputies, with the understanding that he is to receive a stipulated salary of $150 per month for the rest of the term, nearly seven years. If this is the matter should be looked into by the Court of Appeals, or the proper authorities, and severely sat down upon. Instead of being permitted to retire on a comfortable salary, while others do the work of the office, he should be kicked out in disgrace. We voted for Tom Henry on his plea of penitence and promise of reform, but this is a little more than we can stand. To a Henry must go. —Richmond Herald.

HIS REMOVAL SHOULD BE INVOKED.

Tom Henry has been on a protracted debauch and has retired to his mountain home, it is to be hoped, to wrestle with remorse and to stay. He has forfeited all claim to confidence, and his retirement from the place should be looked into by the Court of Appeals, or the proper authorities, and severely sat down upon. Instead of being permitted to retire on a comfortable salary, while others do the work of the office, he should be kicked out in disgrace.

It is divided into seven sections, each complete in itself.

ETIQUETTE, POULTRY, HOUSEHOLD, MEDICINAL, DOMESTIC PETS, POISONS AND ANTIDOTES, TABLE OF MEDICINES AND THEIR DOSES.

Each section makes a book in itself and a person in reality gets seven books at the price of one. Every body who sees the book wants one.

The book is particularly adapted to lady canvassers. Agents are wanted in every village and city in the State. The terms to agents are the most liberal ever offered. Send for circulars and terms to EDDY PRINTING AND PUBLISHING HOUSE, 47-48 Flint, Mich.

The State Press on Tom Henry

"It was no Caesar laid him low, Tom was sour-mus whisky struck the blow." Tom Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has been playing the devil again. This is a very mild name for his conduct as detailed in a special to the Courier-Journal by its Frankfort correspondent, and which we reproduce in another column. When he gets fairly launched he is a wolf from the head waters of Bitter Creek, and don't you forget it. When it comes to tackling "cocktails" and "smashes" he is a Kentucky Sullivan. In six weeks he has knocked out of time two distilleries and any number of saloons, and now he has deserted his office and gone off to the mountains to find more and "newer" red liquor to conquer. —Green Gazette.

In Capt. Henry's address to the Democratic State Central Committee, that distinguished moral court which once threatened with his axe to the people of the State, and now he is having the pleasure of his nomination to the Court of Appeals, if not several other departments of State Government, for it is not a concealed fact that Providence has refused to ratify some other pledges of nominees who have been elected in Kentucky. —Louisville Commercial.

A TRADING OFFICER.

By reference to a Mt. Sterling dispatch, in another column of this issue, it will be seen that Capt. Thos. J. Henry, Clerk of the Appellate Court, is again the victim of damaging reports.

He is charged with drunkenness and selling out his office. He pronounces the charges false, and says they were gotten up by men for the purpose of forcing him out of office, that they may get in. Does Capt. Henry refer to Gaines and Poore, his deputies? He got the office by agreeing to make them deputies in consideration of their influence in securing his nomination. A public officer in this State who secures the place by trading for it, has a pretty rough time, as Sheldon and Cecil, late and present Register of the Land-office can testify. —Covington Commonwealth.

RICK HENRY OUT.

Tom Henry has been on a protracted debauch and has retired to his mountain home, it is to be hoped, to wrestle with remorse and to stay. He has forfeited all claim to confidence, and his retirement from the place should be looked into by the Court of Appeals, or the proper authorities, and severely sat down upon. Instead of being permitted to retire on a comfortable salary, while others do the work of the office, he should be kicked out in disgrace.

It is divided into seven sections, each complete in itself.

ETIQUETTE, POULTRY, HOUSEHOLD, MEDICINAL, DOMESTIC PETS, POISONS AND ANTIDOTES, TABLE OF MEDICINES AND THEIR DOSES.

Each section makes a book in itself and a person in reality gets seven books at the price of one. Every body who sees the book wants one.

The book is particularly adapted to lady canvassers. Agents are wanted in every village and city in the State. The terms to agents are the most liberal ever offered. Send for circulars and terms to EDDY PRINTING AND PUBLISHING HOUSE, 47-48 Flint, Mich.

The State Press on Tom Henry

"It was no Caesar laid him low, Tom was sour-mus whisky struck the blow." Tom Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has been playing the devil again. This is a very mild name for his conduct as detailed in a special to the Courier-Journal by its Frankfort correspondent, and which we reproduce in another column. When he gets fairly launched he is a wolf from the head waters of Bitter Creek, and don't you forget it. When it comes to tackling "cocktails" and "smashes" he is a Kentucky Sullivan. In six weeks he has knocked out of time two distilleries and any number of saloons, and now he has deserted his office and gone off to the mountains to find more and "newer" red liquor to conquer. —Green Gazette.

In Capt. Henry's address to the Democratic State Central Committee, that distinguished moral court which once threatened with his axe to the people of the State, and now he is having the pleasure of his nomination to the Court of Appeals, if not several other departments of State Government, for it is not a concealed fact that Providence has refused to ratify some other pledges of nominees who have been elected in Kentucky. —Louisville Commercial.

A TRADING OFFICER.

By reference to a Mt. Sterling dispatch, in another column of this issue, it will be seen that Capt. Thos. J. Henry, Clerk of the Appellate Court, is again the victim of damaging reports.

He is charged with drunkenness and selling out his office. He pronounces the charges false, and says they were gotten up by men for the purpose of forcing him out of office, that they may get in. Does Capt. Henry refer to Gaines and Poore, his deputies? He got the office by agreeing to make them deputies in consideration of their influence in securing his nomination. A public officer in this State who secures the place by trading for it, has a pretty rough time, as Sheldon and Cecil, late and present Register of the Land-office can testify. —Covington Commonwealth.

RICK HENRY OUT.

Tom Henry has been on a protracted debauch and has retired to his mountain home, it is to be hoped, to wrestle with remorse and to stay. He has forfeited all claim to confidence, and his retirement from the place should be looked into by the Court of Appeals, or the proper authorities, and severely sat down upon. Instead of being permitted to retire on a comfortable salary, while others do the work of the office, he should be kicked out in disgrace.

It is divided into seven sections, each complete in itself.

ETIQUETTE, POULTRY, HOUSEHOLD, MEDICINAL, DOMESTIC PETS, POISONS AND ANTIDOTES, TABLE OF MEDICINES AND THEIR DOSES.

Each section makes a book in itself and a person in reality gets seven books at the price of one. Every body who sees the book wants one.

The book is particularly adapted to lady canvassers. Agents are wanted in every village and city in the State. The terms to agents are the most liberal ever offered. Send for circulars and terms to EDDY PRINTING AND PUBLISHING HOUSE, 47-48 Flint, Mich.

The State Press on Tom Henry

"It was no Caesar laid him low, Tom was sour-mus whisky struck the blow." Tom Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has been playing the devil again. This is a very mild name for his conduct as detailed in a special to the Courier-Journal by its Frankfort correspondent, and which we reproduce in another column. When he gets fairly launched he is a wolf from the head waters of Bitter Creek, and don't you forget it. When it comes to tackling "cocktails" and "smashes" he is a Kentucky Sullivan. In six weeks he has knocked out of time two distilleries and any number of saloons, and now he has deserted his office and gone off to the mountains to find more and "newer" red liquor to conquer. —Green Gazette.

In Capt. Henry's address to the Democratic State Central Committee, that distinguished moral court which once threatened with his axe to the people of the State, and now he is having the pleasure of his nomination to the Court of Appeals, if not several other departments of State Government, for it is not a concealed fact that Providence has refused to ratify some other pledges of nominees who have been elected in Kentucky. —Louisville Commercial.

A TRADING OFFICER.

By reference to a Mt. Sterling dispatch, in another column of this issue, it will be seen that Capt. Thos. J. Henry, Clerk of the Appellate Court, is again the victim of damaging reports.

He is charged with drunkenness and selling out his office. He pronounces the charges false, and says they were gotten up by men for the purpose of forcing him out of office, that they may get in. Does Capt. Henry refer to Gaines and Poore, his deputies? He got the office by agreeing to make them deputies in consideration of their influence in securing his nomination. A public officer in this State who secures the place by trading for it, has a pretty rough time, as Sheldon and Cecil, late and present Register of the Land-office can testify. —Covington Commonwealth.

RICK HENRY OUT.

Tom Henry has been on a protracted debauch and has retired to his mountain home, it is to be hoped, to wrestle with remorse and to stay. He has forfeited all claim to confidence, and his retirement from the place should be looked into by the Court of Appeals, or the proper authorities, and severely sat down upon. Instead of being permitted to retire on a comfortable salary, while others do the work of the office, he should be kicked out in disgrace.

It is divided into seven sections, each complete in itself.

ETIQUETTE, POULTRY, HOUSEHOLD, MEDICINAL, DOMESTIC PETS, POISONS AND ANTIDOTES, TABLE OF MEDICINES AND THEIR DOSES.

Each section makes a book in itself and a person in reality gets seven books at the price of one. Every body who sees the book wants one.

The book is particularly adapted to lady canvassers. Agents are wanted in every village and city in the State. The terms to agents are the most liberal ever offered. Send for circulars and terms to EDDY PRINTING AND PUBLISHING HOUSE, 47-48 Flint, Mich.

The State Press on Tom Henry

"It was no Caesar laid him low, Tom was sour-mus whisky struck the blow." Tom Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has been playing the devil again. This is a very mild name for his conduct as detailed in a special to the Courier-Journal by its Frankfort correspondent, and which we reproduce in another column. When he gets fairly launched he is a wolf from the head waters of Bitter Creek, and don't you forget it. When it comes to tackling "cocktails" and "smashes" he is a Kentucky Sullivan. In six weeks he has knocked out of time two distilleries and any number of saloons, and now he has deserted his office and gone off to the mountains to find more and "newer" red liquor to conquer. —Green Gazette.

In Capt. Henry's address to the Democratic State Central Committee,